

STAAR Redesign Copy Samples for Social Media Posts

Parent-focused

1. Students will be participating in the redesigned STAAR test beginning April 18. Remember, the new STAAR is not a high-stakes test—it's more aligned with how teachers in our district are instructing students in the classroom. The redesigned STAAR will allow our students to show in different ways what they have learned this year. #YourChildIsReady
2. A shout out to the hundreds of Texas teachers who helped shape the new questions that will be on the STAAR test. New questions on STAAR will be more aligned to the kinds of questions teachers are asking students during regular classroom instruction. #TeachersAreKey

Parent and Student-focused

1. As students prepare for testing, parents should remind them that the test measures progress, but a student's score does not determine whether they can pass to the next grade. Don't sweat the test. Just do your best! #Don'tSweatTheTest
2. A shout out to the hundreds of Texas teachers who helped shape the new questions that will be on the STAAR test. New questions on STAAR will be more aligned to the kinds of questions teachers are asking students during regular classroom instruction. #TeachersAreKey